4.3.4. Screens for entering additional information

Enter Best Before Date Enter the date to the respective field. By default, the system displays a date which is calculated based on the expiry definition settings for the item and the current date. Press the right arrow button or 'Enter' to proceed. When there is a best before date linked to the item which expires later than the entered best before date, a warning will be displayed.	✖